CITY ATTORNEY EVANS RESIGNS

PRIVATE BUSINESS IS CAUSE OF RESIGNATION PLACED BEFORE TRUSTEES

LETTER IS FILED

EFFECTIVE ON FIRST OF YEAR; OFFICIAL DEVOTED TEN YEARS TO GLENDALE

Coming as a surprise, the resignation of W. E. Evans as city attorney of Glendale was filed with the board of city trustees, at the board's meeting last night.

City Attorney Evans filed his written resignation, to take effect the first of the year, just before the board adjourned. In his letter, and in a brief statement he made after it was filed, City Attorney Evans stated that the demands of his private practice forced him to relinquish the office.

On motion of Trustee Stephenson, the resignation was referred to the committee of the whole. There was no discussion as to Mr. Evans' probable successor.

Attorney Evans' Resignation

Following is Mr. Evans' resignation as filed with the city trustees:

"December 23, 1920.

"Hon. Board of Trustees,
"City of Glendale,
"California.

"I herewith tender you my resignation as city attorney of the city of Glendale.

"The duties and responsibilities of the office of city attorney of the city of Glendale have reached that point where a substantial portion of the entire time of the incumbent of that office is required, and I feel that in justice to myself that I should take this action so that I may be able to devote my entire attention to my own private practice.

"I fully appreciate the many courtesies extended me by this and former boards of trustees and wish to say that if at any time I may be able to extend the city any assistance in an altruistic way, or otherwise, I should be only too glad to do so.

"I request you to accept this resignation as becoming effective January 1, 1921.

"Yours very truly,

After the resignation had been read by the city clerk, Mr. Evans stated:

"There is no reason for my resignation but that contained in my com-

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Endicott, 308 North Central avenue, will entertain Christmas day, at a 2 o'clock dinner, a number of relatives and friends, including Mrs. Endicott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Krachey, Ed Krachey, Miss Agnes L. Krachey, Mrs. M. Lyons, A. Timmons and Mr. and Mrs. F. Formanac, all of Glendale, and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Larson and daughter of Los Angeles.

RETURNS AGAIN

MRS. F. C. GALE IS ONCE MORE IN SOUTHLAND, MAKING SIXTH VISIT HERE

Mrs. F. C. Gale likes southern California and especially that part of it occupied by the city of Glendale. This is shown by the fact that Mrs. Gale arrived in Glendale today from Minneapolis for the purpose of spending her sixth winter in southern California. She will be the guest here of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Anderson of 455 West Maple street.

HONOR TEACHER

TWO CLASSES TO ENTERTAIN NEXT MONDAY AFTERNOON AT CHRISTMAS PARTY

Plans are being completed for a Christmas party to be given next Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Blankenship, 1317 North Brand boulevard. The hosts will be the members of the Lydia class and the Wednesday Afternoon Bible class of the First Presbyterian church. The party is being given in honor of the teacher of the classes, Mrs. Baker.

TRIO OF PARKS FOR GLENDALE

THREE WILL BE LOCATED IN DIFFERENT SECTIONS OF CITY IF BONDS WIN

COMMERCIAL STREET

REPEALING ORDINANCE GOES THROUGH AS CORRECTION AT TRUSTEE SESSION

In order to specify more definitely how part of the money secured through the proposed bond issue for the civic center, to be placed before the voters of Glendale at a special election to be called late in January, will be expended, a change in the proceedings was ordered on motion of Trustee Stephenson at a meeting of the board of city trustees last night.

In the proposition calling for $66,000 for parks and a swimming pool, it was decided to spend $22,000 for a park in the northwesterly portion of the city, $22,000 in the easterly section and $22,000 in the southerly section, the swimming pool to be placed in one of these parks.

Legal matters in connection with the $100,000 civic center bond issue, which was recently approved by the voters, but will have to be re-submitted because a firm of bond experts refuse to agree as to the validity of the issue, are now being put into form.

Commercial Street Improvement

At the meeting of the city trustees last night, on motion of Trustee Stephenson, seconded by Trustee Bartlett, the ordinance repealing the ordinance ordering the opening of Commercial street was adopted. The action, as has been explained, was made necessary by an error found in the ordinance ordering the work done.

It was stated by T. W. Watson, city manager, that he had addressed a meeting of citizens opposed to the improvement and that he had told them the repealing of the ordinance does not mean the board has lost jurisdiction over the work.

Trustee Bartlett asked if the ordinance in question could not be amended instead of repealed, but it was stated by City Attorney Evans that, while this was possible, no time could be gained by doing so, therefore the ordinance repealing the ordinance was adopted.

FROM CHICAGO

MOTHER OF MRS. C. W. DUDLEY ARRIVES IN GLENDALE TO CELEBRATE CHRISTMAS

Mrs. Mary Rhuark, mother of Mrs. C. W. Dudley, and Mrs. F. J. Radloff, Mrs. Dudley's sister, arrived in Glendale from Chicago in time to celebrate Christmas with her. They will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dudley, 102 North Central avenue, for the winter.

Rhuark Dudley, who has a position in San Francisco, arrived in Glendale last evening and will spend two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dudley, before returning to the northern city.

ENTERS PLANE

L. C. BRAND HAS CRAFT OUT FOR PRIZE; G. G. BUDWIG WILL BE PILOT

Glendale is to be represented in the entrants to the aeroplane races to be held at Willowville, near Long Beach, Christmas day and also December 26 and 27, by L. C. Brand's "Mono Eagle," which will be piloted by G. G. Budwig in the sixty-mile handicap race and other events. This plane has a 150 horsepower motor. Mr. Brand has also entered his new plane, which has been named the "La Pere," but owing to some alterations which were necessary, it will not be ready for flight in time for the races.

APPEAL IS QUICKLY ANSWERED

An appeal for further donations for the poor of Glendale and Los Angeles county, made in an article published in last night's issue of The Evening News, was directly responsible for eight generous gifts of money, food and clothing, according to Mrs. L. W. Bosserman, chairman of the philanthropic department of the Tuesday Afternoon club.

WEATHER FORECAST

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 24. — The weather forecast is: Cloudy tonight and tomorrow, with showers probable.

WATER SYSTEM IMPROVEMENTS

BIDS ARE CALLED FOR AND WORK WILL BE STARTED BY CITY TRUSTEES

UNDER BOND ISSUE

SUM OF $146,841.50 TO BE EXPENDED, IS ESTIMATED BY ENGINEER LYNCH

Action toward the improvement of the city of Glendale's water system, under the $260,000 bond issue, was taken by the board of city trustees last night, in a series of resolutions covering the estimated expenditure of $146,841.50.

Plans and specifications covering the proposed work have been prepared by Harry Lynch, engineer in charge, and formal action on several of the units and other matters connected with the improvement was taken last night, on motion of Trustee Stephenson and with the unanimous approval of the members of the board present. Trustee Robinson was absent.

Series of Resolutions Passed

Bids for pipe and other materials, and construction, will be opened at a meeting of the trustees to be held three weeks from last night.

"This is the most important and satisfactory bit of business transacted since I've been a member of this board," remarked Trustee Stephenson, following the passage of the series of resolutions.

The formal action of the board, as shown by the minutes of the city clerk, follows:

On motion of Trustee Stephenson the purchase of the Ross reservoir was authorized and the sum of $7000 appropriated for the same, the payment of the money authorized upon receipt of deed and title, showing the property to be clear of all incumbrance. The following rollcall: Ayes, Bartlett, Henry, Shaw, Stephenson. Noes, none.

By various motions made by Trustee Stephenson and duly adopted, all trustees present voting aye, the city clerk was instructed to advertise for bids to be opened at 8 o'clock p. m., January 13, 1921, as follows:

For material and construction of Glendale avenue pipe line in accordance with specifications and plans heretofore approved by the board.

SOCIAL TIME

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM IS GIVEN BY CASA VERDUGO CHURCH AFTERNOON AND NIGHT

A most pleasant social time was had last night at both of the young people's Christmas parties held at the Casa Verdugo Methodist church. The smaller children assembled at 5 o'clock and spent the early evening hours playing games and singing Christmas songs. There was a prettily decorated tree and gifts were given out to all.

Later in the evening a program for the entertainment of the older children was put on. An unexpected number on this was two humorous readings by M. C. Barnard. Mrs. R. D. Jones presided at the piano. Following the program, games were played.

A white cradle was filled to overflowing, chiefly with provisions and canned goods, which will be sent to the orphan children of the David and Margaret home.

Jones of Hollywood, and Charles Westbrook and mother, Mrs. Westbrook, of Highland Park.

Mr. Roberts is an employe of a Los Angeles newspaper, having been associated with the circulation department for over ten years. Miss Roberts is a talented musician. They have just recently purchased their new home at 509 Milford street, formerly being residents of Los Angeles.

TAFT AND HARDING HOLDING CONFERENCE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

MARION, O., Dec. 24.—Former President Taft, in conference with President-elect Harding here today, expected to try to fill in with concrete proposals some of the outlines of the association of nations idea. The constructive work credited to Taft in securing some of the more favorable phases of the League of Nations covenant was counted on by Harding to add new thoughts to the accumulation of ideas he has gleaned from discussions with the nation's "best minds."

LOSS OF LIFE EXPECTED TO BE VERY HEAVY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

TOKIO, Dec. 24.—Loss of life was expected to be heavy as officials began checking casualties today in the worst eruption in the history of Mount Asama. A terrific explosion Wednesday showered smoldering ashes over a wide territory. It was followed by a great display of smoke and flames and a number of shocks. Sparks from the crater started a great fire and set ablaze a village at the foot of the mountain.

CIVIL WAR IN ITALY IS NOW THREATENED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ROME, Dec. 24.—Italy today dreaded a civil war as the possible result of Gabrielle D'Annunzio's retention of Fiume. Troops from the regular Italian army surrounded the city today, enforcing the blockade ordered by the government. Hundreds of citizens have left the city.

CONGRESS AGAIN PROBES FARMER PROBLEM

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

INVITE GUESTS

MR. AND MRS. MAX GREEN TO BE HOSTS AT DINNER ON BEHALF OF FAMILY

There will be a family dinner party this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Green, 140 South Jackson street. The guests invited are Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Jackson of Hollywood, Mrs. C. H. Cornell, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cornell, of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Cornell of Glendale.

The dining room will be decorated in the Christmas colors, with red and green candles in large silver candle holders on the large dining table. After dinner there will be a Christmas tree, with gifts for both the little folks and the big folks.

CHRISTMAS WAITS TO CAROL

A band of thirty or more Christmas waits will start out at 4:30 tomorrow morning from the Christian church to sing Christmas carols at the homes of old people, sick folks and "shut-ins."

The word "wait" is old medieval English meaning "watchman," and this pretty Christmas custom dates back to the seventeenth century in England, when musicians went about early Christmas morning serenading with Christmas carols.

The Glendale Christmas waits can sing for twenty-five or thirty. They have probably sixteen or eighteen engagements already, and anyone, "shut-ins" or old folks who wish to be visited by them may call Dr. Cole's residence, 578-R.

This is the fourth annual observance of this custom by the singers of the Christian church.

HOME COMPLETE

HOUSE WARMING WILL TAKE PLACE CHRISTMAS DAY IN E. L. TUCK RESIDENCE

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Tuck, who have just completed a lovely home on Elmwood street, Burbank, will dedicate it with a family gathering on Christmas day. There will be a Christmas dinner, trees and surprises for the guests.

Those invited from Glendale are Mrs. Tuck's mother, Mrs. Addie Allen, Dr. and Mrs. R. V. Hogue and Benny, Mr. and Mrs. Linkogel, Merle and Eula and Master John Berry. From Los Angeles, Mrs. Marmaduke and Sanford Marmaduke and Mrs. Walter Owens will be present.

MUCH INTEREST IN RECRUITING

More interest was shown yesterday in the recruiting of volunteers to serve in the Glendale infantry company of the California National Guards than any time since the opening of the station, Capt. Thomas W. Watson said today.

"While more recruits have been registered from among the younger men of Glendale, there have been enough older men signed up to assure enough for a second platoon," Captain Watson stated. "The age limits are from eighteen to forty-five and we want the older men to join, too. We need some of Glendale's prominent business men in this organization and we know they will come if the right appeal is made. I know of two or three who have already volunteered, although they have not yet registered."

MOUNTAIN LION SLAIN ON RANCH

ANIMAL MEASURING 7 FEET LONG IS SHOT AT UPPER GOULD PROPERTY

MAN FACES ATTACK

WILLIAM SLUTMAN HAS NARROW ESCAPE BEFORE HE SLAYS INFURIATED BEAST

A mountain or Mexican lion, measuring seven feet long and said to be the largest found in this section of the country for many years, was slain early yesterday morning by William Slutman on the upper Gould ranch at the extreme edge of La Canada.

It required two shots to slay the mammoth cat and in the conflict Mr. Slutman narrowly escaped being killed by the infuriated beast. The lion had been making nightly visits to the Gould ranch and had killed $400 worth of the best stock. Tuesday night he killed six goats.

The ranchman had set traps on several occasions, but after the big kill he determined to hunt the animal himself. He set a circle of traps at the mouth of one of the passes and after an all-night vigil the lion appeared.

Cat Breaks from Trap

The cat jumped directly into one of the traps set for him and almost at the same instant Mr. Slutman fired. With a cry of pain the lion wrenched himself clear of the trap and was about to spring when Mr. Slutman fired a second time. The cat fell back and was caught in a trap which held him fast.

Mountain lions have preyed upon the Gould ranch in previous winters, but never was so large an animal or one which had done so much harm, ever killed there. Mr. Slutman has been offered $100 for the pelt.

The slain cat was the object of much interest and crowds kept coming and going at the Gould ranch all day yesterday as news of the killing spread about the vicinity. Mr. Slutman believes his task is not yet over as the animals usually hunt in pairs. He is watching each night now for the mate.

BASEBALL GAME

ELKS' TEAM AND PLAYERS ON AMERICAN LEGION SQUAD TO CLASH CHRISTMAS

For the entertainment of all the baseball fans of Glendale and vicinity a baseball game will be played on the high school grounds Christmas day at 2:30 o'clock. This will be the first game to be played by the Elks' team and a number of the members will be given an opportunity to show their skill, so that a fast team can be picked from the club to represent Glendale in the travels of the team around southern California.

Jack Thomas on First

The Elks' team is under the management of Vincent Salmacia, who will be assisted by Jack Thomas, a former National league player, and who will also hold down the initial sack. "Van" Von Osdoll, a member of the Salt Lake City team, has consented to play left field for the Elks. He is noted for his skill as a real hitter and fast fielder.

The local post of the American Legion has a team consisting of two or three of this year's star players of the Glendale high school team and also some other well known ball artists, who, with their hard hitting, will make the Elks as fleet footed as the famous herd they are named after.

The service men have decided to use Fred Jenkins on the mound. He is remembered as pitching the Glendale union high school to the championship of southern California.

BROTHER HERE

MR. AND MRS. J. S. HEARNSHAW ARE NOW ENTERTAINING LATTER'S BROTHER

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hearnshaw of 358 West Lomita avenue are happy to have with them for Christmas Mrs. Hearnshaw's brother, William H. Viohl, who arrived yesterday from Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Hearnshaw will have as their guests at a Christmas party tomorrow Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. John Roman of Glendale, and Mr. and Mrs. B. Coen of Los Angeles, formerly of Chicago.

GIRL IS STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

LORNA JEAN FORSYTH, AGED FIVE YEARS, IS PAINFULLY HURT IN ACCIDENT

HIT CROSSING STREET

ERNEST A. LAWRENCE, FORMER MEMBER OF POLICE FORCE, DRIVER OF MACHINE

About 7 o'clock last evening, as Lorna Jean Forsyth, aged 5 years, was crossing Central avenue at Elk with her two brothers, aged 9 and 13, and a little girl friend, aged 7, a machine was seen approaching.

The children started to run across the street, but Lorna not being able to run quite as fast as her older companions, was struck. The machine, a Ford sedan, was being driven by Ernest A. Lawrence, formerly a captain of the Glendale police department, but now of the Glendale Taxi company.

Lorna, who is a step-daughter of Judge A. W. Darch, who moved to Glendale from the East about six weeks ago, was taken to her home, 231 West Elk avenue. After being examined by a physician it was thought best to take her to the Glendale sanitarium. She is resting nicely today.

Receives Cuts and Bruises

Her injuries consist of cuts and bruises about the forehead and face, her right hand slightly crushed and the wrist sprained and the right collar bone broken. She was caught between the fender and the wheel of the machine, the wheel itself just passing over her right hand.

Mr. Lawrence, who is considered to be a very careful driver by his acquaintances, went immediately to the police department to report. Officers Wells, who was formerly a police surgeon, Blix and Herbert assisted in the examination of the child before she was taken to the hospital.

DINNER AND TREE

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES DYKES OF MONTEBELLO WILL BE CHRISTMAS HOSTS

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Dykes, of Montebello, will entertain members of their family at their home with a Christmas dinner.

Glendale guests will be Mrs. Dykes' mother and sister, Mrs. Flora Pixley and Miss Olive Pixley, of 116 West Lomita avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. John G. Pixley, brother and sister-in-law of the hostess.

Other guests will be Mr. and Mrs. W. P. McArthur, of Los Angeles, brother-in-law and sister of the hostess, and a girlhood friend of the mother of the hostess, who has celebrated Christmas with the family for many years.

In the evening there will be a Christmas tree celebration and other festivities.

PLAN REUNION

OUT OF TOWN GUESTS TO BE ENTERTAINED ON HOLIDAY AT HIBBEN HOME

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Hibben, 123 East Laurel street, are planning to celebrate the Christmas holidays by having a family reunion, which is to be in honor of Mrs. Hibben's father, J. F. Ballenger, who makes his home with his daughter, Mrs. Nellie Simpson, 203 East Laurel street.

Out-of-town guests expected to attend are Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Ballenger and family of Riverside, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Ballenger and family of Riverside, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Elkins of Long Beach.

YOUTH CHARGED WITH BEGGING

Telling a hard-luck story of unsuccessful attempts to find work, two young men, one eighteen and the other nineteen years old, were brought to the Glendale police station charged with begging. The boys, it was alleged, had been going from house to house asking for old clothing. When brought before Chief of Police John Lampert, they declared they had been thrown out of work by the shut down of shops in the east and had come to California in search of employment. Unsuccessful in this, they had wandered about for two days living on oranges which they picked up off the ground. The youths were taken to the limits of the city and instructed not to return.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 24, 1920

IN MANY ways Glendale, as a city, has much cause for rejoicing at this Christmas time. She has emerged from the small-town class to the dignity of a city renowned the length and breadth of the land for her remarkable growth and development. The Glendale Evening News has grown with the city and as we look back over the past year and the years before we feel a keen sense of obligation to the hundreds of Glendale people who by their loyalty year after year have helped us and are helping us to attain the high standard we have set for the paper.

Much favorable comment has been heard in regard to changes and improvements recently made in the paper and much tangible commendation has been received in the form of voluntary paid-in-advance subscriptions. Many people look upon the Evening News as their paper, a civic asset, and this attitude on their part is a great encouragement to us.

The Glendale Evening News thanks you for every kindly word, act and thought. The wish of this paper is that the true Christmas spirit may be abroad this year and that every one may enjoy a Merry Christmas.

DIFFICULT PROBLEM

The fixing of a basis for congressional representation under the recent census will present perplexities. Should the numerical standard be not materially changed the membership would be materially increased and the present house is so large that it is agreed it is unwieldy. Should a ratio that would maintain the present membership be established some states would lose representation. No state wants to have a less number of members than it had before. Each member whose chances of return would be haphazarded by a reduction in a state's delegation would bitterly oppose any such arrangement.

A basis that would reduce the size of the house membership would be welcomed by many, but such a result is not probable for the very people who are interested in maintaining the numerical strength are the ones who make the decision. Yet it follows that the increase in the membership of the house cannot be continued indefinitely. If we continue to grow in population a limit will be reached. Too large a legislative body cannot do its work so well as a smaller one. In a multitude of counsellors there is wisdom, is an old saying, but it is just as true that in a multitude of counsellors there is confusion.

The states that already have the larger delegations are the ones that would profit the most by basing representation on the present standard. They, too, are the ones that would object the least to a slight reduction in the total membership for even with that their numbers of representatives would not be diminished necessarily. It is the states that have made little or no gain that would prove the objectors to any plan that would reduce the number of their representatives. The end, whatever it may be, will not be attained without considerable trouble.

Christmas Is Here

Amid the boisterous joys that trail along with Santa Claus, the gifts, the sweets, the many glad surprises and the delightful laughter of the children, it is good to know that all this festivity has not been idle. There has been a kindly meaning in it all.

Not many mothers and fathers are there who have not reminded their increasingly hilarious flock time and again that it is more blessed to give than to receive.

It is not the crow of gladness with which the youngster seizes his much-to-be-prized toy that reveals him to his parents. And those anxious ones are always on the alert to see what kind of man or woman is in the making in their home.

Rather is it the little, modest, sidelong glance that stole to sister's face, the wistful eyes that timidly sought daddy's for a second, while the recipient of the childish gift tore open the tissue and tinsel and disclosed the loving present that lay there.

The thrill that came to sister or to father at that moment did not compare to the tingling glow that welled up from the heart of the giver. This is the joy of Christmas. It is not new. Since Jesus walked in Gallilee the world has known it.

It is more blessed to give than to receive.

The "drys" seem to have the time of their lives trying to convince John Barleycorn that he is actually dead.

It is all right to teach Americanism to aliens, but a little of it to some Americans might help.

Perhaps if more innocent bystanders were hurt others would be more inclined to go on about their business.

The individuals who are selling potions to make hens lay should find their business stimulated by the price of eggs.

A lot of perfectly good jails are being given over to the roaches, while bootleggers and crooks infest the land.

MRS. SANTA CLAUS
ARRIVES INSTEAD OF HUSBAND AND IS WELL GREETED BY TROPICO METHODISTS

The children of the Tropico Methodist church, perhaps because they are so far south, came very near being overlooked by Santa Claus last night. In the end they all received a treat, but that was because of the thoughtfulness of Mrs. Santa Claus, who hastily attired herself in one of her robust husband's warm, red suits, gathered up the forgotten presents and hitching up the reindeer, who have been somewhat neglected since Santa bought his new motor car, saved the day by arriving just in time to give out the belated gifts.

At least that is the way Mrs. Santa Claus (Miss Phoebe Snell) explained it to the children, following the Christmas entertainment held in the Sunday school room of the church last night.

During the first part of the evening the members of the primary and senior departments were gathered in their own separate rooms where games were played and the individual gifts presented by the teachers, given out. Later, everyone gathered in the auditorium and stereopticon slides, pictorially telling the Christmas story, were thrown on the screen. Mrs. Henry Wilcox read the story as the slides were shown.

APPRECIATION

While this was my first year in Glendale, my business has far exceeded my highest hopes and I am delighted with the volume of my holiday business.

I know now that the people of Glendale are loyal to their town and that they will "trade at home" when they are given any fairly reasonable inducement to do so. And I believe that all they require in this respect is courteous treatment, a good stock to select from and fair prices.

While I have confined my stock to comparatively limited lines, I have tried to carry the best and to represent each article just as it is; to charge reasonable prices and to employ intelligent and courteous help.

I appreciate the splendid trade I have had and want to assure you all that I shall endeavor to merit your patronage in the future.

I sincerely wish you all a Merry Christmas.

THEATRE LIGHT SYSEM UNIQUE

ROBERT JENSEN IS DESIGNER OF VERY GOOD PLAN FOR LIGHTING SHOWHOUSE

PLEASING PATRONS

THEATRE-GOERS ARE ABLE TO FIND PLACES EASILY BY METHOD ARRANGED

Robert Jensen, besides being the very capable manager of the Palace Grand Theatre and a citizen deservedly popular because of his public spirit, is also a man of infinite resourcefulness and much ingenuity, as the new lighting system he has installed in his theatre will prove; for Mr. Jensen has done all the work himself, according to his own cleverly worked-out plans.

By means of this improved lighting system patrons are enabled to find their seats with comfort, for there is light enough to see one's way, and even to see people at some distance, although, through an ingeniously arranged modification of the soft shades of blue in the lights, this illumination does not mar the picture on the screen, but rather adds a soft glow to it that is grateful to the eye.

The new lighting system is not only a practical improvement, but a thing of beauty as well. Red lights are arranged to mingle their warm glow with the blue, giving a soft violet effect, restful and beautiful. The addition of white lights changes the combination to a still softer hue.

Lights Are Hand Colored

Every one of the lights was handcolored, by Mr. Jensen himself, or under his direction. The effect is noted with pleasure by the patrons of the Palace Grand, who see only the beauty and the convenience, perhaps, without realizing also the restfulness resulting from this harmonious color-blending.

The unusually good projection and the fine French lenses, imported several months ago for Mr. Jensen, are other factors that make for the comfort of his patrons, for the picture on his screen, say those who should know, is not surpassed by that of any picture house on the Coast in point of clearness and lack of flicker. Many people note with great pleasure the comfort to their eyes in viewing the pictures on the screen of the Palace Grand.

HOLD EXERCISES

WEST GLENDALE METHODISTS ENJOY PROGRAM BEHALF OF HOLIDAY SEASON

Many more than could be comfortably seated in the auditorium of the West Glendale Methodist church, attended the Christmas exercises there last night. The entertainment opened with scripture reading and prayer by the pastor, Rev. W. W. Cookman; a solo, "Birthday of the King," by George More, and a recitation by Miss Beatrice Guenther. A short one-act play followed.

The remainder of the program follows: Solo, Miss Donna Wilson; recitation, Miss Dorothy Jensen; short talk, Superintendent John Camphouse; song, "Hurrah for Santa Claus," Mrs. Robinson's class.

The children of the Sunday school then marched upon the platform and deposited their gifts for the poor in the manger.

To stimulate building in New Jersey, it has been decreed that dwelling houses erected between now and October 1, 1922, will be exempt from taxation for the next five years.

LARGE SAVINGS

STAFFORD HARLOW, IN CHARGE OF GLENDALE OFFICE, SAYS AUTO CLUB ASSISTS

More than $4,000,000 worth of automobiles were transported from one section of the United States to the other during the year 1920 through the service of the forwarding department of the Automobile club of southern California, according to Stafford Harlow, Glendale representative of the club.

The shipment of motor cars for resident and non-resident car owners to all parts of the United States and to foreign countries is an important branch of the service rendered by the Automobile club and, it is estimated, saved motorists more than $100,000 in cash this year.

Saved in Freight Charges

"The bulk of the money saved is in freight charges," Mr. Harlow explained. "By shipping in carload lots the freight charges can be split in half. Cars are shipped by the club at actual railroad cost, and all the shipper has to do is to deliver his machine to club headquarters, 240 South Brand boulevard, Glendale, and the club does the rest.

"Men with block, tackle and experience take charge of the automobile, load it in the freight car, block it securely, attend to the shipment and consign it to responsible parties at the point of destination. These parties, in turn, deliver it to the consignee.

"Cars can be sent in from any point to Glendale or shipped in by mail, and directions sent to the club's forwarding department to bill the car and reforward as directed. When desired, the department supplies drivers to deliver cars to outside towns, the shippers paying only actual cost incurred."

GIVE PROGRAM

MEMBERS OF CHURCH PRESENT TABLEAUX; MUSIC GIVEN BY CHOIR AND ORCHESTRA

The main auditorium of the First Presbyterian church was filled last night by parents and friends to witness the Christmas program presented by members of the Sunday school, aided by the church orchestra and choir. The entertainment opened with several orchestra selections and Christmas carols on the pipe organ. Members of two boys' classes then read appropriate scripture verses. Following a few words of prayer by H. L. Finlay, the superintendent, the first tableau, representing the annunciation of the Virgin Mary, was presented. Miss Mary Morgan took the part of the virgin.

Miss Fannie M. Retts sang, the primary children repeated their program of Wednesday afternoon, a second tableau was given, then an exercise by Miss Minnie St. Clair's class, one by Miss Bessie Field's class, a third tableau by J. B. McClellan and Miss Morgan, a fourth tableau—patriotic in nature—and a short talk by Rev. Walter E. Edmonds.

Despite the fact that oats rank next to corn and wheat in acreage and value in the United States, specialists of the department of agriculture report so little attention is given to this important grain that the crop is sometimes unprofitable.

If those government agents become too inquisitive a man may have to put a stove in his cellar to make home brew.

RIVERBANK, Cal.—The first organized union composed exclusively of full blooded Indians is the unique distinction this city holds.

The American federation of labor with which the union is affiliated, has given the organization of this lodge much atention and all affiliated locals have been instructed to lend help in making the first union of full-blooded aborigines in the history of the American federation of labor a success.

Great Athletic Bowl for Stanford Planned

PALO ALTO, Cal.— Spring will see ground breaking for Stanford University's $750,000 stadium or athletic bowl, according to plans determined upon at a meeting here of students and the engineering department of the university. The bowl will have a seating capacity of 60,000. It will be completed and will be used to usher in the 1923 season of football, it is announced by the students and faculty in charge of its construction.

The site selected is characterized as an ideal site; all possible means have been taken in selecting to allow for the reaching of it by transportation. It is bounded on the north by the state highway and by the double tracked railway on the west.

This work will be the culmination of several years of forethought by the athletic authorities of the university, who established a "stadium fund," putting into it ten per cent of all the gate receipts of all campus games and one-half of any net surplus at the end of the fiscal year. The purpose of the fund was to establish a working capital for use in the preliminary work.

Plans are being drawn under the direction of the university engineering department headed by Professors Durand, Marx and Wing.

SEEK SOLDIER

GLENDALE POLICE TRYING TO LOCATE ONE OF MEN GUILTY OF ASSAULT, ROBBERY

Search for the soldier deserter, Ed Davenport of Fort McArthur, who is alleged to have beaten and robbed John W. Kimble, a Glendale taxi driver, on the night of December 16, is being continued by the Glendale authorities.

The trail has led them to San Francisco where, it is reported, Davenport fled with a woman from his home town of Pomona last week. While no trace of him has been found, Chief John Lampert said today that he felt reasonably certain that the soldier would be captured within a few days and brought back to answer for his crime. No direct efforts are being made to find the sailor said to have been a partner in the attack upon Mr. Kimble, since authorities believe if they once find Davenport he will confess the name and whereabouts of his accomplice.

On one point they are positive, however, and that is that Davenport or his friend was familiar with the country southeast of Glendale, having probably been to the government rifle range before, and knew that the Sycamore Canyon road was deserted late at night.

GIVE PANTOMINE

SENIOR MEMBERS OF BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL TAKE PART IN HOLIDAY PROGRAM

Twelve of the senior members of the Baptist Suday school presented a Christmas pantomime, entitled "Why the Chimes Rang Out," as the principal number of their Christmas program held last night at the church. The climax of the story was read by the Rev. Ernest E. Ford, pastor of the church.

Those taking part were: Robert Taylor, Mrs. Ellen Bundick, Mrs. Roger Bently, Mrs. Jensbury, Karl Schruender, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Childers, Mr. and Mrs. George Adams, Charlie Temple, Howard Kent, Nellie Love, Robert Hatch, Faith Tarling, Stanley Walker, and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. King.

ABOLISH MONEY.

The economic ideas of the soviet government of Russia, as they have been applied to industry and business, have not demonstrated their worth to the extent that would make anybody but a Russian become enamored of the proposal of Lenine and Trotzky to abolish money. It is true that if money in the United Ctates did not possess any more purchasing value than the millions of currency issued from the printing presses of the soviet government, the people might be prepared for the next step of eliminating it altogether.

With the exception of the metals used in money, it has no intrinsic value beyond that possessed by the paper for waste; but bills, checks, and other evidences of credit are used between civilized nations and people as a medium of exchange, and it will continue to be regarded as such until something better than no money at all has been provided as a substitute.

Russia will injure only herself by destroying money as a means of exchange, for Russia will not be able to get anything from other nations unless she pays in current value or trades goods for goods. This is not progress, but retrogression as far as financial policies are concerned.

Huge financial transactions are carried on by telegraph and cable, orders being flashed from one financial agent to another, the good faith of the governments backing the policy which makes business dealings quick and satisfactory. Russia would destroy all the conveniences of a medium of exchange that is recognized by progressive nations.

FITTING PITTED VALVES

The owner who does his own work on the car will find that valves which are pitted may be easily and quickly refitted by having a local garage or machine shop cut a new face, the latter being used for this purpose. This is a matter of a scant five minutes' work, whereas grinding it until the face is clear may mean hours of tiring work. Of course, the newly cut valve will have to be ground to its seat, but this is not a formidable task.

COURT ACTION OVER PAINTING

NEW YORK—A suit to recover a painting by Thomas Daniels, entitled "The Crossing of the Ganges," was filed in the county clerk's office by Mrs. Margaret Townsend Tagliapetra of 15 East Ninetieth street, against William Fellowes Morgan. She alleges she gave the painting to Mr. Morgan on April 19 last as collateral for a loan of $200, and that although she has several times offered him the amount, he has failed to return the painting.

At the time she gave him the painting, she says her home was being broken up through foreclosure sale. Morgan purchased two other paintings from her at the time for $125, and wanted to buy "The Crossing of the Ganges" outright. Mrs. Tagliapetra explained to him, she says, that friends of her father, the late John D. Townsend, planned to purchase the painting and present it to the Metropolitan Museum of Art or the Bar Association, in his memory.

EVENING NEWS CLASSIFIED ADS FOR RESULTS

HOLIDAY MAIL RECORD BROKEN

OVER THOUSAND PACKAGES TO BE DELIVERED DAILY AT LOCAL POSTOFFICE

FORCE WORKS FAST

EMPLOYEES KEEP UP WITH IT AND GLENDALE RESIDENTS GET MAIL ON TIME

Although preparations were made at the Glendale postoffice to take care of 100 per cent more packages than were handled by the branch last Christmas, the actual number received far exceeded expectations.

All records were broken during the last three days when 1,100 packages were delivered daily. George Hallett, superintendent, estimated last week that 1,000 packages a day would be the high-water mark. However, he stated today that his force was keeping well abreast of the flood and that unless many more came in today and Christmas, they would be able to continue their present system of prompt delivery.

Mail from East Heavier

While business at the local receiving windows has been slacking up, mail from the East has become heavier daily, he said, nor is there any relief in sight. Mr. Hallett stated that only yesterday one train pulling into Los Angeles carried twelve carloads of mail, each car probably containing not less than 800 or 900 mail bags, many of which were undoubtedly addressed to Glendale residents. He added that he expected to retain his entire holiday force until several days after Christmas.

Eighteen additional clerks and carriers have been added to the force at the Glendale office, swelling the total number of employes to forty.

Five New Delivery Wagons

Many of these extras are experienced clerks and carriers, since they have largely been chosen from among the college students, home for the holidays, who have worked in the postal department in former seasons. Five new delivery wagons are also engaged in delivering holiday mail.

"There will be one general delivery of letters and packages Christmas day," Superintendent Hallett announced. "Packages arriving after the mid-day delivery must wait until Monday before reaching their destination. All special delivery packages, however, will be delivered at once."

GETTING BACK TO FARMS

No figures are available to show what movement, if any, is under way on the part of persons in the towns to get back to the rural homes which they abandoned to earn big wages in industrial plants during and since the war. It was hoped that one good effect from the slowing down of industry would be the creation of more interest in farming.

Under the stimulus of war conditions the farmers of the United States planted record crops, and since the war the decrease in acreage has not been more than 15 per cent. With the sharp drop in prices and the drift of so many farmers toward the cities, it must be plain that a crisis in agriculture will be created within a short time.

Reports from Kansas are that wheat growers have sowed slightly more than 10 per cent less acreage in wheat than the preceding year, but the sharp decline in the quotations for wheat will probably have the effect of causing more marked reductions nert year, unless prices are advanced.

Farmers will yield to the lure of wages and the advantages of the cities unless farming is reasonably profitable. The idea of a paternalistic government may not be a pleasant one, but congress should do what it can to aid in financing present and prospective farmers, just as it aids, through the banking system, the manufacturers and the business men.

TEACHER SUBSTITUTE PARENT

When you put an apple in your child's hand in the morning, kiss the ruddy little cheek and send your precious one to school, do you dismiss the youngster for the day? Is your interest only formal past the schoolhouse door? Or if you do scan the report cards with some pride or else concern, does your care actually extend as far as the teacher?

That substitute mother, remember, sees about as much of your child as you do. The teacher, moreover, is watching the little mind unfold, develop, flower with a keen and appreciative eye. The teacher, chances are, has your child's confidence. Yes, the teacher can tell you several things about that child. So much for what you can gain from the teacher. But think of her also as a young woman, She is not single-minded—besides her school work, she likes life. She likes folks and, especially if she is not teaching in her own home town, she has a rather lonely time.

Be human to the teacher. Show her as much consideration, as much human kindness, as you expect her to show your child. In other words, there is an opportunity to put the old-fashioned but reliable golden rule into practice.

ABOLISH SANTA CLAUS? OH NO!

GLORIOUS ILLUSION MUST NOT BE DESTROYED; IT MUST BE PRESERVED FOREVER

DREAMS OF CHILDREN

FAITH OF LITTLE ONES IN KRIS KRINGLE SHOULD BE CAREFULLY FOSTERED

"Happy is the man who has kept his illusions," says the old French proverb; for illusions, like happy memories, keep the heart young.

One of the newest insanities of the acid-faced killjoys is "a great offensive" against Santa Claus. These are they who would eliminate all stories that stir the childish imagination—because they are not "true!" These are they who would destroy every glorious illusion that is not taught in text books or measured by rule—things of imagination's realm that lift us above life's sordid realities. These are they that have no use for anything unless they can "hook it to some useful end."

And now, forsooth, they cry "Abas, Santa Claus!" There must linger in their make-up some strain of the old Puritans, who, Macauley tells us, prohibited bear-baiting and other cavalier amusements not because they were painful to the bear, but because they gave pleasure to the spectators.

They will legislate tobacco out of existence and make it unlawful for us to drink our harmful morning cup of coffee—maybe—but we doubt that they will ever succeed in banishing Santa Claus. Time does not dim nor custom stale the perennial joy of the saint of Christmastide. Cranks may come and cranks may go, but he travels on forever in his sleigh with prancing reindeer; and his sleigh bells will jingle on Christmas eve in the dreams of generation upon generation of children yet unborn. Old Santa is all the more real because the limitations of a material being do not hedge him about; because he dwells in the imagination of children of many climes and many countries.

Central Thought in Christmas

Their faith in Santa Claus is not responsible for the present lack of the religious element in the Christmas celebration. While for many people the religious phase of the celebration of Christmas is wanting, this is not because they were taught to believe in the jolly saint who loved children, but because the faith in Christ was not instilled in their hearts in the first place.

The infant Savior, God's gift to a sin-ridden world, is the central thought in the Christian's Christmas. Yet Santa Claus need not be banished from the children's lives. Many of the most beautiful customs with which we surround the celebration of Christmas were adapted from the pagans; yet we do not feel that they detract from the real significance of the day.

In Glendale homes today we twine the evergreen, wreathe the holly, deck with glittering gauds the fir tree and set the Yule-log ablaze—if we're fortunate enough to have a fireplace.

In twining the evergreen and wreathing the holly we are reviving an ancient custom of the old Romans, who celebrated at this time of the year the festival of the Saturnalia—the shortest days of the year had passed and the sun was about to return to them, hence their joy. When the Christian faith began to spread, it was decided to celebrate Christmas at this season, and thus to substitute the Christian festival for the pagan celebration.

When we put up our Christmas tree, we are following the lead of the Goths and Vandals, fierce German tribes converted by St. Boniface to Christianity; they worshipped Thor, and for their "Thunder Oak," under which human sacrifices were made, the saint substituted another tree, dedicated to love and good deeds. He chose the fir tree, with its top pointing ever to the sky, and called it the tree of the Christ-child.

The Yule log dates back to the time of the Saxons and Goths, who burned such a log at their festival of the winter solstice.

Ceremony Sacred to Priests

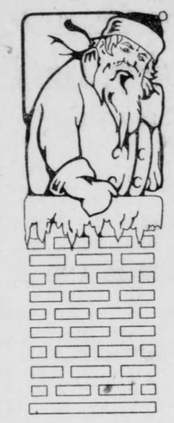
The hanging of the mistletoe recalls a ceremony sacred to the ancient Druid priests, who cut the plant at this season according to a mystic rite and omen.

The word Christmas means "mass of Christ." That it has been celebrated as a festival of the birth of Christ ever since the first century is shown by writings upon the walls of the early Christian tombs.

As the early Christian fathers sanctified many popular pagan customs by giving them Christian significance, so may Christians of today surround their Christmas festiivties with the halo of the Christ-Child. Children can be made to understand that the gifts of Santa Claus have their origin in the joy the Infant Savior, the great Christmas Gift of our Heavenly Father, brought us on that first Christmas day.

But out upon the idea of banishing good Saint Nicholas, said to be the archbishop of Myra, a Father of the Church in the fourth century! Children have loved him too long—and children are loyal to an old friend.

As Christmas approaches we take the opportunity to thank the patrons of the Palace Grand Theatre for their appreciation of our efforts to conduct a first-class theatre; and to wish every one of them a



Merry Christmas

It is with great pleasure that we look back over the year that is just passing to its close. Our relations with the people of Glendale have been so pleasant. We have tried to give the home city the same theatre accommodations that they might expect to enjoy in a much larger city and our patrons have shown us in a tangible way that we have "made good."

We have secured the "big" films, the pictures that are being talked about and show them at our regular prices just after they are released and while they are still being shown in the big metropolitan theatres. Many times we have secured these pictures at great expense and financial risk.

Our nightly changes of program have been an expensive feature but one which we feel we owe to our patrons.

We have interested ourselves in matters of local concern and given the use of our theatre for entertainments of community interest.

We Have Tried to Give You a Metropolitan Theatre in the Delightful Setting of a Beautiful Foothill City

All of these things we feel have been appreciated, the words of commendation we have heard have all been remembered and we say again, your kindness means much to us and we pledge you our best efforts in the year to come.

TRUSTEE STEPHENSON WRITES IN REPLY TO LETTER OF DR. C. R. LUSBY

Editor Glendale Evening News—I have just finished reading the letter of Dr. C. R. Lusby, printed in The Evening News of yesterday. In the past I have let pass unanswered several attacks made on me and the board of trustees for the reason that I am fully aware and in hearty accord with the right that every citizen has to criticize the official acts of public servants. Criticisms, however, should be just and of the official acts of public officials and not in the nature of personal attacks, nor filled with inferences and innuendo.

I do not know by whom the error in the ordinance ordering the opening of Commercial street was found, nor was I aware that there was any error in it until the same was called to the attention of the board by the city attorney. Dr. Lusby does not seem to realize that the position of myself and another member of the board of trustees is that of trustee and not that of legal adviser. The citizens of Glendale elected me as a trustee and did not impose the responsibility of advising the board of trustees as to legal matters. Therefore, although an attorney-at-law by profession, I feel as though I would be presuming if in any matter before the board of trustees I should attempt to force upon the board of trustees my opinion as to the legality of any matter before it.

Let it be distinctly understood that the foregoing statements of mine are not meant to be a criticism in any manner of the city's legal adviser, for as a member of the board of trustees I have the greatest confidence in our city attorney, both as to his integrity and as to his legal ability. The statements I have made are simply to set right the idea that some of my fellow citizens have that it is the duty or right of any member of the board of trustees to advise the city as to the legality of any matter pending before the board of trustees.

Very truly yours,
DWIGHT W. STEPHENSON.

munication. I have been city attorney of Glendale for ten years, lacking about four months. The time has come for me to either remain in office and sacrifice a great deal of my personal business, so great is the city's demands upon my time of late, or to resign. I must, in justice to myself and to the city, make a decision. I have decided to resign.

"The city's business has increased to such an extent that it will take nearly all of the time of an attorney. I cannot, at the salary, give the business practically my full time. And, too, the telephone tolls between Glendale and Los Angeles are an expensive item, for I am forced to be in frequent communication with city departments.

"I have, in the years I have served the city, taken a deep interest in the work and have been treated very kindly by this board and others before it. It is with regret that I sever official relations, but I wish to say that if I can in the future be of any service, I will gladly do what I can to serve the people of Glendale and my home city."

"The resignation comes as a surprise," stated Trustee Stephenson, when Mr. Evans had concluded. "I move the letter of Mr. Evans be referred to the committee of the whole."

On motion of Trustee Stephenson it was ordered that sum of $950 be appropriated from water and bond fund for expenses of engineering. In this connection the demand was presented in favor of the engineer of the public service department for the sum of $950 which was referred to the finance committee, approved and ordered to be paid by the following rollcall: Ayes, Bartlett, Henry, Shaw, Stephenson. Noes, none. Absent, Robinson.

SOME FIGURES

EVIDENCE IS OBTAINED BY CITY MANAGER WATSON TO SHOW GLENDALE GROWTH

According to T. W. Watson, city manager, who is familiar with local conditions because of his official position, declares that real estate values have increased in Glendale in the last three years from 25 to 50 per cent—and he has no realty to sell, either.

"Not only has realty values increased 25 to 50 per cent," said City Manager Watson, "but in some instances business property has increased 300 per cent—and more.

"Of course, this increase comes largely from our increase in population. And the end is not yet. Glendale will continue to grow and grow fast. Why, figures I have gathered show that the city is increasing in population at the rate of about 5000 new residents yearly.

"Inquiry I have made shows that homes are being purchased in Glendale at the average rate of 100 a month. Do these facts mean anything when I urge that the people of Glendale should look into the immediate future and plan for it?"

GROUCH TEST

AUTO DRIVER ON HIS WAY TO SOUTHLAND SOON LEARNS TO CLASS TOURISTS

Frank A. Harrison, member of the news staff of the Lincoln, Neb., Star, whose arrival in Glendale was told in The Evening News last night, declares that he has learned how to tell a disgruntled eastern tourist.

"We came to southern California by auto," said Mr. Harrison. "We were forty-five days on the road, being equipped with a camping outfit and lingering along the route as fancy dictated.

"As we neared southern California we would meet auto parties headed eastward. We would stop and talk with them. I would, of course, ask about the roads. We learned by experience that when an auto party would declare the roads 'rotten' that such would not be the case and, further, that our informants were people whom California failed to please and were returning east to the cold and other discomforts, well equipped with a grouch."

The afternoons of this happy group of young people are devoted to a series of teas in their various homes, while every evening sees them gathered together for a party somewhere.

The First National Bank of Glendale has enjoyed a good year. Its business has grown materially and its work has moved smoothly and satisfactorily.

Efficient and loyal service of the men and women employes of the bank has played an important part in its progress. In appreciative recognition of this fact, the officials of the bank have today distributed $3,000 among its workers as a bonus for their year's work.

The sum received by each employe is equivalent to a little more than the amount of his salary for a month and a half.

AUTO AND BLOODED ANIMAL COMPARED

NOVEL ILLUSTRATION GIVEN BY MR. WHITE RELATIVE TO ABUSE OF CAR

"If people would use as much discretion and show as much consideration for an automobile in driving it as they would in driving a horse they would have less trouble with their machines," said Mr. White, of Packer & White, local Studebaker agents.

Mr. White was heard to remark the other day to a man who was complaining about his machine: "If that machine had hide and hair on it you would be arrested for cruelty to animals." Asked by an Evening News man afterward just what he meant by that remark, Mr. White said:

"That party can't drive a machine right and he will not learn. He will ask for advice, but when it is given to him he will make no effort to profit by it. What I said to him about being arrested was true. For the purpose of my illustration let us take the Studebaker. A blooded horse will run, if it is urged on, until it drops in its tracks; before the final collapse it will perhaps give no signs of exhaustion. The ordinary horse, however, will usually show its resentment of abuse beyond a certain limit; it may jump over the traces, or it may balk, or it may try to run away.

Compares Auto to Blooded Horse.

"The automobile is more like the blooded horse; it is sensitive, although it is incapable, of course, of in any way expressing its resentment of abuse, unless its final refusal to function can be interpreted as such. If you own a horse you attend to its shoes; you see that it is curried daily, and if it refuses to eat you immediately try to remedy its affected bowels or whatever else is the matter with it. You should at least give the same degree of attention to your automobile, which has many intricate and delicate parts, as you would to your horse. You can drive a horse to death, and so can you an auto. Unnecessary speeding at any time is dangerous to your machine as well as to yourself, and let me emphasize the fact that no machine will stand the strain of speeding on long distances. There is no reason why a first-class car should not be used for five years without much repair cost. It all depends on how it is used."

Packer & White have been established in the automobile business in Glendale for about four years and have high ideals in regard to business integrity.

"The automobile dealer can place his business on just as high a plane as banking or any other line of commercial endeavor," concluded Mr. White.

MORE STRICT RULE NOW BEING SOUGHT

DRASTIC ACTION IS PROPOSED FOR THOSE WHO VIOLATE STATE TRAFFIC LAWS

A more drastic policy of license revocation as a means of enforcing the state motor vehicle act is recommended by Charles J. Chenu, superintendent of the State Motor Vehicle department. For those classed as first offenders for conviction for speeding or disregard for rules of the road, he would revoke their licenses for from thirty days to three months, depending upon the gravity of the offense. Second offenders would forfeit their licenses for six months and those convicted a third time, would be forbidden to drive for a year.

Chenu makes these recommendations as a result of an examination of records in his office, showing that speeders who have twice been convicted and then warned that a third offense will result in their licenses being canceled, have been partcularly careful to observe the law.

Although the law does not require it, Chenu sends to each person who has been convicted twice for speeding, a warning that a third conviction will cause the loss of his license. He says this has been an effective means of checking the offenders, and expresses the belief all autoists would be very careful to observe all sections of the motor vehicle law if they realized infraction would result in the license revocation.

TRUCKS CAN'T RUN HERE

REMARKABLE TRIP MADE BY OAKLAND

AVERAGE RUNNING TIME MORE THAN 260 MILES DAILY FOR TEN DAYS

The record-breaking number of tourists who are motoring to the coast this season has given the drivers a wonderful opportunity to test the stamina of their cars. But what appears to be a remarkable performance is reported by Juseppa Gattuso, of Minneapolis, who has just completed a run of 2613 miles to San Francisco in ten days, driving an Oakland six.

With three passengers, personal luggage and camping equipment, Mr. Gattuso and his family made their way leisurely, taking what they considered ample time to enjoy the sights of all the points alopg the way, including Minneapolis, Des Moines, Omaha, Cheyenne, Denver, Salt Lake City, San Bernardino, Los Angeles and San Francisco. In each of these cities brief stops were made, as well as at the many other points along the route. Provisions were made for the members of the party to use the car for changing their wardrobe, so that it was unnecessary for them to rent a room at a hotel for the purpose of changing from their traveling togs into more conventional costume, whenever stops were made at way points.

The average running time of Mr. Gattuso was slightly more than 261 mile a day, an exceedingly good average in the best of weather, and a most remarkable performance for winter driving through snow and rain. The entire distance from Omaha to Cheyenne was made during a terrific snowstorm. During the entire run it was unnecessary to visit a garage for repairs, and with the exception of the adjustment by the owner of a valve tappet there was no expense incurred for repairs.

FARM FIELD AIDS TRACTOR INDUSTRY

FARMERS ARE LEARNING NEW USES FOR MOTORS; LARGE INCREASE IN SALES

Recently the interesting announcement was made by the manufacturer of motor trucks that with the least sales effort the farm field has become the largest and most important in the tractor industry.

Many who are in touch with agricultural developments assert that motor trucks will be sold in greater numbers even than tractors to farmers during the next few years.

Multitudinous are the uses to which a farmer may put his motor truck, and even the manufacturers frequently are astounded by the ingenious employment made of their trucks by ranchers.

One California farmer, whose tractor was temporarily out of order, did most of the work in a sixty-acre grain field with his truck, which he hitched to the various implements.

Great Loads Are Hauled

With giant pneumatic tires, great loads of farm crops are hauled out of fields and orchards where the ground is frequently very soft. For this purpose, much use is being made also of the flange wheel, which in connection with hard rubber tires, forms a tractor-like surface for use in soft ground, which is above the pavement when the truck is used on the highway.

A survey has shown that the truck with a capacity of 1½ to 3 tons meets with greatest favor among farmers. The more progressive truck manufacturers are awakening to the importance of the farm field. This is evidenced by the increasing amount of motor truck advertising appearing in farm magazines.

It is unually not a very far step from temperament to temper.

DIFFERENT DESIGNS ON GENERAL LINES

STREAM-LINE CARS ARE NOW GENERALLY ACCEPTED AS PERFECT, SAYS OFFICIAL

Automobiles have reached a perfection of general design which will serve as a pattern for auto body building of the future, in the opinion of Percy Owen, president of the Liberty Motor Car company of Detroit, which is represented in this territory by B. G. Sutherland of Glendale. He refers particularly to what is called the "stream-line" design, now used by a large majority of autos.

"The simplicity, beauty and good taste of the stream-line designed cars," he states in an authorized interview, "will no doubt act something like the colonial design of homes. In reality, the idea back of colonial architecture began in ancient times in buildings of the Greeks and Romans. This idea of building was so admirable that it has been adapted during many periods in history—the Renaissance throughout Europe, the colonial days in America and another revival at present. Fads and freaks of building have practically all given way to the simple good taste of what is grouped under such headings as 'colonial' or 'classic.' Thus it is sure to be in the architecture of autos.

Many Whims in Designs

"There are bound to be countless whims in body designing of motor cars. Motor boats, and even airplanes, will provide ideas for body builders. Torpedoes, shells and almost anything which moves extremely fast will supply other motifs. There will be much going back to coachwork types used before gas motors were known. In addition mny new fancies are certain to be conceived and tried out for a time. But the requirements of fast, comfortable and economical riding, and the constant recurrence of a public desire for use of simple good taste will bring long revivals of the stream-line design, which is believed to have been perfected in present day models."

Mr. Owen pointed out that his faith in these beliefs was proved five years ago when the Liberty Six, which he originated, pioneered the stream-line design. With only very minor changes, the original Liberty design is still in use, and a majority of auto designers have adopted the stream-line idea.

OLDSMOBILE GIVES REAL SATISFACTION

KEEN PRIDE IS TAKEN BY ALL THOSE WHO DRIVE CHARACTERISTIC CAR

There is every reason for taking keenest pride in the ownership of an Oldsmobile "Six." Whether one's choice is the touring car or the roadster, there is always the satisfaction of knowing that the lines of the low-hung body are gracefully pleasing, no matter from what angle the car may be seen. The beauty of line is accentuated by such characteristic Oldsmobile refinements as the natural wood finish of the hickory wheels, the tasteful use of nickel trimmings, the smart beveled side rails, and the score or more of "little" things that in the aggregate mean so much to the owner's conveniences and enjoyment of his car.

Oldsmobile beauty is given permanence by a finishing process in which the very best paints and varnishes, and the highest type of skilled hand labor are employed.

The comfort "which begins at the springs" reaches its culmination in the deep, luxurious upholstery. Only the finest grade of long grain, bright finished, black leather is used. This is box pleated, without buttons. Incidentally, the same high grade leather is used in finishing the top rails of the doors and body.

Extend to Every Detail

The features of the Model 37-A Oldsmobile enumerated here are typical of the quality that extends to every detail of construction from the radiator cap to the tail light—quality that insures sturdiness and durability. To appreciate the beauty of the Oldsmobile "Six" one must see it, examine it carefully. To appreciate its exquisite comfort, one must ride in it. To appreciate its performance, one must drive it.

O. F. Meyer, 721 East Broadway, will arange a demonstration for you. His telephone number is 2333-J.

66 IN FIRST NEW YORK SHOW

Sixty-six exhibits completed the display of the first automobile show ever held in this country in Madison Square Garden, New York City, on November 3, 1900. The 1920 show lists 400 exhibitors of motor cars and accessories.

SOLVE HOUSING QUESTION

In France manufacturers of motor vehicles are attempting to solve the housing crisis by constructing large automobiles which, like Pullman cars, may be transformed into sitting or bed rooms at will. Kitchenettes and bath rooms are also installed.

SECOND LARGEST IN WORLD.

The automobile industry is declared to be the second largest industry in the world, employing 280 allied trades and carrying 10 per cent of the world's commerce.

WEARS OUT FROM REPEATED CHARGES

LOCAL WILLARD EXPERT HAS SOME INTERESTING FACTS CONCERNING BATTERY

"Most people can understand why a tire wears out, or why bearing points of a car work loose," says E. W. Cizek, Willard representative, "but they don't quite see why a battery should ever wear out."

"Of course the main trouble is that it's harder for anybody to imagine a chemical process than a mechanical one, and the battery is strictly chemical.

"There is not much inside a battery. About all there is to it is a set of plates with insulators between each pair, and solution that covers both plates and insulators. These plates are simply lattices of metallic lead filled with lead compounds. The insulators may either be wood or threaded rubber.

Certain Chemical Charges

"Before a battery can be used at all it has to be charged. The electric current coming in causes certain chemical changes. When you turn on your lights or step on the starter, charges start in the opposite direction and supply you with current.

"Of course this constant changing back and forth will wear out a battery in time, just as contact with the road will wear out a tire. And even if the battery is in storage and is kept charged, some wear will go on, as the chemicals are all present and are never absolutely idle."

FORD CAR HOISTED UP TO NINTH FLOOR

MOST ARTISTIC ONE NOW IN LOS ANGELES STANDS IN JONATHAN CLUB LOBBY

The most artistic Ford in Los Angeles at the present time is a coupe. B. A. Finch, Los Angeles Ford dealer, sold this coupe to the Jonathan club for use in their annual jinks. It now stands in the lobby of the club where it will remain until the jinks are over, January 1.

It was a big problem for the management of the Jonathan club to get the 1900-pound coupe into the lobby up on the ninth floor, where it now stands. Mr. Finch was called into conference to determine how best it could be taken up. The problem was whether it should be best assembled on the floor or whether it would be possible for a Ford to withstand the strain of being hauled up by tackle. Mr. Finch at once stated that the hoist would be the best and cheapest method and that the Ford would, indeed, stand the gaff.

Thus this Ford, a standard coupe weighing 1900 pounds, was hoisted up nine stories to the top of the Pacific Electric building and through a window into the Jonathan club. No damage was done to the body of the coupe, to the motor or to the springs and chassis where the hoisting ropes were attached.

It is believed this is the first time in the history of Fords that one has had entrance to so exclusive a club such as the Jonathan, or has been handled piano-fashion to the top floor of a building. Unlike a piano, this Ford will need neither tuning or adjusting. Kick the self-starter and away she will go.

Despite its spectacular rise in the world, this Ford remains as democratic as ever and will not refuse to associate with its fellow Fords or other conveyances of similar ilk.

NUMBER OF AUTOS SURE TO INCREASE

DEMAND FOLLOWS GROWTH OF POPULATION, IS STATEMENT OF O. W. TARR

"The number of automobiles purchased and used will continue to increase as long as population increases," says O. W. Tarr, local dealer in Chevrolet passenger and commercial cars.

"The automobile did not of itself create the need which it supplies. As necessity is always the mother of invention, so the automobile is the result of demand, rather than the cause of it.

"Transportation is essential to the progress of civilization. The more efficient the transportation methods employed, the more advanced civilization will be. And the automobile is the most progressive transport in general use.

"People have always wanted a personal conveyance which would make them independent of the common limitations of travel,—time, distance, physical discomfort. That is what we have in the automobile. It has made old dreams come true.

New Ways of Service

"Railway and car lines alone could not supply the transportation for passengers and goods demanded today. Automobiles are sharing this responsibility, and fulfilling it even more efficiently by reason of their greater convenience and range of travel.

"More than that, they are serving in ways possible to no other means of transit. Today we see automobiles overcoming old limitations which other methods of travel have imposed upon business development and the useful activities of the individual.

"In this they complete man's personal equipment. Everyone who has ever used an automobile knows the feeling of independence it affords. And now that everyone is familiar with its benefits and how to apply them, it will play an even more important part in progress in the future than it has in the past."

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford Coupe

The Ford Coupe seems to fit right into the Real Estate business, not alone because of its convenience and always readiness to take the prospective buyer out to the subdivision, but to take him or her in a mighty comfortable motor car. The Coupe has a big, broad seat, deeply upholstered, plate glass windows so that the breeze can sweep right through the open car. Or in case of a storm, why, the Coupe becomes a closed car, snug, rain-proof and dust-proof. In addition, it has all the Ford economies in operation and maintenance. Electric starting and lighting system. Demountable rims with 3½ inch tires all around. Tire carrier. Low in first cost, and mighty economical in upkeep. # TOURIST REGISTER IS NOW INSTALLED

MOTORISTS BY HUNDREDS ARE ARRIVING IN SOUTHLAND; MANY SIGN NAMES

And still they come! Motorists by the hundreds are driving into Los Angeles every week in cars of every make and description—so many of them that at least one automobile dealer has found it necessary to put a big tourists' register in his salesroom, and now when a touring party arrives in a Velie Six their names, route, car model, gas average, oil mileage and a dozen other facts regarding their trip are registered in this big Velie record of the season's touring.

The book was started some three weeks ago. Already there are the records of twenty Velie touring parties in it, and each day sees an added page or two. Velie parties are registered from Rumford, Me., from Brockton, Mass., from Montana, Minnesota, Oklahoma, Illinois, Texas, Virginia, Chicago and other eastern points, and in each case the space reserved in the book of remarks about the trip have been taken up with unqualified indorsement of the Velie car that carried the parties to Los Angeles.

Recent entries show the arrival of Martin J. Welch, in a Velie 34 who left Hibbing, Minn., with four passengers and extra baggage totaling more than 450 pounds, traveling over 3000 miles in the Velie and end up the description of the trip with an enthusiastic testimonial for Velie worthiness.

One couple, both gray haired, came from Boston in a Velie 34, and camped out every night on the way. They reached Los Angeles with a total repair bill of less than $2, and had some thrilling adventures in helping other less fortunate motorists out of the gumbo mud of Missouri.

HERE'S REAL GAS EATER.

Here's an item for the motor car owner who squeezes 20 or more miles from every gallon of gasoline. The giant dirigible airship, R38, which is nearing completion for the United States navy, is a runabount whose gasoline bill amounts to just short of $50 an hour. The big balloon, which will be flown across the Atlantic in the early spring, is to carry 32 tons of fuel, and still have 13 tons left available for freight and passengers. It's cruising radius is 6,000 miles at a speed of 60 miles an hour. The machine will consume 130 gallons of gasoline an hour and average a third of a mile to the gallon.

About the most unmelodious music comes from the person who is blowing his own horn.

99,967 CARS IN ONE MONTH

One automobile factory in the United States produced 99,967 automobiles during the month of October. The record day was October 26, when 4688 cars were built, a rate of one car every eighteen and one-half seconds.

RAPID FIRE GREASE GUN.

Here is a method of putting lubricant into the rear axle in double quick time. Put a common funnel in the filler hole of the axle. Remove the cap and nozzle from the end of the grease gun, opening the whole front end of the gun. Put the end of the grease gun in the wide end of the funnel and hold it firmly, while screwing up the handle in the ordinary way. The grease will shoot into the axle in jig time, and a rinsing with kerosene and wiping with a bit of waste will remove all traces of the operation from the funnel.

GROWING FAST

POPULATION OF THIS CITY TO DOUBLE IN 4 YEARS, IS PREDICTION MADE

There are 8,500,000 automobiles registered in the United States this year, according to T. W. Watson, city manager of Glendale, who, he says, gets his figures from Ernest P. Goodrich, consulting engineer for New York City.

"At the present rate of increase, this number will be doubled in four years or less," declared City Manager Watson today.

"There are now 20,000 people residing in Glendale. At the present rate of increase, this number will be doubled in four years or less.

"Now put the two together. The answer is: Inside of four years there will be a remarkable increase of auto traffic on the streets of Glendale. In my opinion, Glendale should look to the immediate future and prepare its street system to care for both population and traffic."

Richardson D. White, superintendent of schools, declares that this year the enrollment in the public schools shows an increase of 24.8 per cent. If the same per cent continues each year for the next three years, Glendale's population will have doubled itself in four years.

CITY TO HELP

BOARD OF TRUSTEES VOTES TO APPROPRIATE $100 TO FLOAT FUND

Representing the general committee in charge of the float to be entered by the city of Glendale in the Tournament of Roses parade at Pasadena on New Year's day, L. T. Rowley appeared before the board of city trustees last night and requested that the sum of $100 be appropriated by the city to bring the committee's fund past the $1000 set as being necessary to finance the display.

After Rowley had made his statement, the trustees, on motion of Trustee Henry, seconded by Trustee Bartlett, unanimously voted to appropriate the $100 from the city's publicity and promotion fund.

Mr. Rowley announced that the money remaining in the tractor fund, amounting to $229.09, had been taken over by the committee and this, with the $100 from the city and the sum subscribed by citizens generally through the columns of The Evening News, would provide the amount necessary.

Picture to Linger in Minds

Mr. Rowley told of the work being done by the committee, said that the cost of flowers—the principal item of expense—had materially increased over last year, and, briefly, described the float being constructed.

"The float, the committee hopes, will leave a picture in the minds of all who see it never to be forgotten," declared Mr. Rowley.

"The people have given about $900 to the float fund; the least the city can do is to give $100, despite the fact our promotion fund is low," said Trustee Stephenson, and the motion by Trustee Henry prevailed.

TICKET FRAUD

BOGUS PASTEBOARDS TO GAME AT PASADENA ARE BEING ISSUED, IS CLAIM

Residents of Glendale are warned that hundreds of fraudulent tickets for the New Year's football game in Pasadena, between the teams of the University of California and the University of Ohio, are being sold. The warning comes from the Tournament of Roses association.

It is announced that all the genuine tickets for the game have been sold long ago. The fraudulent tickets appeared a few days ago and were sold on the streets of a number of cities in the south. They differ from those issued by the association in that they are all white and do not bear section numbers or reserved seat numbers. They are also of a different size and shape and have five lines running across the face. A price of $2.50 is printed on them and "Sections A, B, C reserved January 1, 1921," is displayed in bold type. The tickets sold by the association are of several colors, including white. They have the section and the reserved seat numbers on them.

LIKES AMERICAN PHONES BEST

LONDON—Sir William Noble, engineer-in-chief of the British postoffice, which also controls the telephones of the country, says the American telephone system is superior to that of Great Britain.

Sir William, who has just returned from a visit to the United States, told the society of arts the general introduction of automatic telephones was probably the main feature in the American scheme of progress. Discussing this matter with telephone experts in the cities he visited, he found practically a unanimous opinion that full automatic working was the only certain method of insuring the quality of service demanded by the public.

The popularity of the telephone in America was, he considered, due first of all to the flat rate, secondly to monthly accounts and thirdly, to party line service and the policy of fostering residential lines.
